

Perryman Managed Services Overview

Backup & Disaster Recovery

Unlike enterprises, many smaller companies cannot afford optimal in-house strategies and solutions in service of Business Continuity Planning (BCP). These companies are consequently at an elevated risk of being put out of business due to any major loss of data. Loss of data could mean emails lost, accounting data lost, patient or client files lost, company records lost, client legal records or orders lost and so on. This white paper evaluates the scope of BCP for smaller companies, by examining their challenges, range of existing solutions and their drawbacks. We'll also discuss how our solution overcomes commonly faced challenges to offer the most comprehensive solution out in the marketplace.

Virtualization

Virtualization reduces the cost and complexity of technology, frees up time to make their businesses more responsive and improves their ability to rebound from disasters. It allows your company to run pairs of applications and operating systems on "virtual machines," which are simply simulated compartments within one physical server. With virtualization, these compartments are protected from one another so if an application or operating system crashes, others running next to it are not affected.

Monitoring & Proactive Maintenance

Supporting the applications, infrastructure, desktops, email, web applications, document management, and other technologies that run your business requires a robust IT team with specialized skills. However, most growing organizations simply don't have a need for all of these skills on a full-time basis. Perryman Managed Services combines decades of combined sound business, industry, and technical experience to provide proactive IT infrastructure maintenance and monitoring services that fits your business and your budget.

Vendor Management

Simplify your vendor relationships by passing along vendor management to Perryman Managed Services. With a letter of agency, we can work with your copy machine leasing company, your phone service provider, your internet provider, and more on your behalf. We will negotiate the best deals and help you maintain a seamless, well managed IT environment.
